

News for RVers #1030, Sunday edition

The former Adult Toy Storage facility in Florida has been sold to new owners.

The largest RV storage facility in the U.S. has a new owner. Adult Toy Storage in Altamonte Springs, Florida, was recently purchased by a Newport Beach, California-based joint venture between RanchHarbor, Ramser Development Company, and Saunders Property. The property, which is being renamed RV Storage Depot, was sold for $25.2 million. It's been operated as an RV storage facility since the mid 1980s and has room for 1,800 units on 55 acres. The new owners plan to expand the facility on an undeveloped 14 acres of the property. The new owners said they plan to roll out more vehicle storage facilities around the country.